■ THREE'S COMPANY?

Is it possible for a loving husband and wife to stay together when the man reveals he's gay? And what happens if he then wants his male lover to move in to the family home? To shed light on these issues, film-maker Don Boyd spent three months getting to know a Northamptonshire household with a highly unusual set-up. The results of his investigations are revealed in this week's Hidden Love documentary, My Gay Husband. After 14 years of marriage and four children, Kris Williams now has to share her husband Steve (above with Kris) with his new lover Simon. But despite doing their best to make the domestic arrangement work, it doesn't take long before the unlikely housemates find that three definitely is a crowd...
